TEXAS TECH UNIVERSITY WOMEN'S STUDIES PROGRAM
URGES "DRINKING, DOPING, AND 'DATE RAPE' IN LUBBOCK"

Wednesday, 16 April @ 6:00 PM, Human Sciences Building-Room 169 – The Texas Tech University Women's Studies Program will host a public forum on sexual assault prevention: "Drinking, Doping, and 'Date Rape' in Lubbock: What YOU NEED TO KNOW About Sexual Assault." There will be a 20 minute video, a panel discussion on rape/assault prevention for women intended to raise awareness about the number of assaults recently at bars in Lubbock, and a Q&A session following the forum. Representatives from the TTU Police, the Lubbock Rape Crisis Center, Planned Parenthood, and the TTU Division of Student Affairs will talk about recent developments and how to stay safe. This event is open to anyone who is interested in learning more about sexual assault.

This event is sponsored by the TTU Women's Studies Program. For additional information, please call 806-742-4335. TTU Parking Services is providing free access to lots R7 and R13 (in front of the Human Sciences building) from 5:30-9:30 PM.
